

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The second of two Meridian courses, Meridians II is a continuation of the classification, nomenclature and distribution of the channels and collaterals, acupuncture point locations, and general acupuncture point groupings. Students will learn the proper methods of identifying and locating acupuncture points, based on their anatomical locations and proportionate body measurements. Meridians II cover all the points on the Urinary Bladder, Kidney, Pericardium, San Jiao, Gall Bladder, and Liver channels.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Students will learn physical location of the acupuncture points of the Du, Urinary Bladder, Kidney, Pericardium, San Jiao, Gall Bladder & Liver channels.

Students will learn the channels by their designations of "hand Shao Yin, foot Jue Yin etc."

SPECIAL NOTES

There will be practical point location time for each class. Students are expected to be prepared for full time participation in each of these practical sessions. This includes appropriate dress for easy access to the points covered at any given class. Students are required to be models for each other in the class. Maintenance of a professional attitude when locating points is required and students must adhere to the professional codes of ethics and participate fully in the class.

The instructor has compiled a workbook that the students will use during the class.

Note that this class makes use of anatomical language and students should familiarize themselves with the major bones and muscles of the body. The Anatomy Coloring Book is appropriate for study.

Professionalism and Full and Prompt Attendance: To pass any course (separate from academic performance) all students must meet requirements for professionalism in coursework. Professionalism includes full and prompt attendance: Students who miss more than 2 class meetings in a 10-week course will earn an F in that course. Additionally, students who arrive more than 15 minutes to class or leave class before it ends will be marked tardy. Two tardies equal one absence. NOTE: Students who leave and return to class late from a break or leave during the class (especially if this is repeated) or who disrupt the class in other ways may be referred to the Academic Dean for professionalism.
