

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is an in-depth study of the Eight Extraordinary Vessels, the Divergent Meridians, the Luo-Collaterals, the Sinew Channels, and the Tendino-Muscular Meridians. It also covers the connections between the meridian systems, including the Twelve Primary Meridians, and the disease patterns indicated for their use. Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to make a diagnosis and a treatment principle utilizing the various meridian systems.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this class, a student will understand the connections between the meridian systems above, their connections to the Twelve Regular Meridians, and the disease patterns indicated for their use.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Out-of-Class Work

To successfully complete the program, students need to plan studying a minimum of 2 hours out-of-class for each academic in-class hour; and half an hour out-of-class for each hour of clinical training.

Five quizzes (20% each)

GRADING SCALE: 100-90% A, 89-80% B, 79-70% C, 69% and below F

SPECIAL NOTES

For those insecure with their listening skills or desiring alternative intake patterns, the above texts are recommended. Most of the lectures will not come from written or published sources so my notebook is a work in progress to help ground you in the information.

Professionalism and Full and Prompt Attendance: To pass any course (separate from academic performance) all students must meet requirements for professionalism in coursework. Professionalism includes full and prompt attendance: Students who miss more than 2 class meetings in a 10-week course will earn an F in that course. Additionally, students who arrive more than 15 minutes to class or leave class before it ends will be marked tardy. Two tardies equal one absence. NOTE: Students who leave and return to class late from a break or leave during the class (especially if this is repeated) or who disrupt the class in other ways may be referred to the Academic Dean for professionalism.
